REPORT.

A Resolution passed at the General Meeting in February last, having made it the duty of the Executive Committee to prepare from the Reports sent in to them by the several Local Committees on or before the 20th day of January, 1843, a full and general report of all the proceedings, and state of the Society and its different Branches throughout the Province, with any other matter that the Committee may think important to introduce into such Report; they have with a view to the performance of this duty carefully examined the returns made to them within the time prescribed, and beg to report as follows :

The Local Committee of Kingston report Subscriptions, which with a Collection in Church, and the proceeds of Books sold, amount to £19 0s. 1d. They have also forwarded two Resolutions passed at a Meeting on the 2d of January, which the Executive Committee feel no small pleasure in recording, although they cannot but regret their determination to send no Lay Representatives to the General Committee.

The Local Committee of Woodstock declare their unabated attachment to the Society, although from the difficulties of the times there is some falling off in their contributions. In proof of the good will prevailing in that quarter, they state that they have received contributions of agricultural produce from many who had not money to bestow. The Church at Jackson Town is now used for the performance of Divine Service every alternate Sunday; and the Church at Richmond, being found to require a considerable enlargement, they crave the assistance of the Society for the accomplishment of that work. They commend highly the exertions and success of the Rev. J. S. Thomson, recommend further aid to the Churches he is engaged in erecting, and express a strong desire for the employment of more visiting Missionaries. They also solicit books for a Lending Library and for their Sunday Schools.

In forwarding the Report of the St. Andrew's Local Committee, the Rev. Dr. Alley has strongly expressed his sense of the good feeling towards the Society prevalent among his people; although the pressure of the times makes the amount of their contributions less than they would wish. Among the Resolutions passed at a Meeting of this Local Committee on the 11th January, there is one recommending a further grant to the Chapel at Chamcook: in support of which recommendation Dr. Alley states the building being of stone has proved more costly than was expected, and created an embarrassing debt.

The Local Committee of Shediak forward a Petition on the subject of a claim put forth by it last year in behalf of the Church at Cocaigne, which the Executive Committee have thought it their duty to refer to the favorable consideration of the General Committee. The Petition is accompanied by an application from the Rev. G. S. Jarvis to be remunerated for travelling expenses incurred in the years 1841 and 1842, by direction of the Lord Bishop, amounting to £4 7s. 7d.

In behalf of the Sackville Local Committee, the Rev. J. Black writes that the New Church at Second Westcock would be finished and ready for consecration in a fortnight. He thanks the Society for the aid "so liberally and timely" given to that work, as well as for the Books and Tracts received by that Committee; and reports a great want in Sackville and Dorchester of Bibles and Testaments, which, he thinks, would there meet with a ready sale.

From the Chatham Local Committee there is as yet no regular Report, but the Rev. S. Bacon has forwarded a grateful acknowledgment of the Society's attention to their recommendation in behalf of the Churches at Glenelg and Blackville, and of the supply of books at different periods to themselves. At the time of writing, their Collections for the Society had not been made, and he anticipated difficulty from the pressure of the times; but he was going to employ his own best exertions in the cause of the Society, and the Rev. J. Hudson had kindly offered his assistance.

The Local Committee of St. Stephen's had a Meeting on the 27th December, at which Resolutions were passed expressive of strong attachment to the objects of the Church-Society. They ask aid in the formation of a Parochial Lending Library, and request that to this object may be applied whatever amount may be granted to them for Books in the present year, together with the grant of last year, which they have not yet taken up.

On the part of the Local Committee of Glenelg, which met on the same day, the Rev. James Hudson states that they return their grateful thanks to the Society for its assistance to the enlargement of their Parish Church. He adds that notwithstanding the bad times there will be no diminution of their contributions to the Society.

Such is the substance of those returns which the Committee are authorised to notice in this Report, and they are happy to say so far as they can judge by the letters which have been received, their own conduct in the execution of the trust committed to them appears to have given general satisfaction to the Members of the Society. They have discovered no complaint against any one proceeding of the past year, except with regard to the request of the Committee at Chatham for aid to the repairs of the Parish Church. It appears from Mr. Bacon's letter that enlargement was contemplated, as well as repairs; but in his former communication that important circumstance was not stated.

The Committee proceed to notice the Society's operations in the several departments to which its resources have been turned.

In the absence of any regular Report from either of the Travelling Missionaries, the Committee can only state that they have been occupied each of them in the District originally assigned to him by the Lord Bishop, as the scene of his labours (as they are informed) with diligence and success. Mr. Hudson's Church at Blackville is finished, and is said to be a very beautiful building; and Mr. Thomson's at the Tobique is considerably advanced. Mr. Hudson has drawn since the last Meeting for Travelling Expenses £29 9s. 9d. and Mr. Thomson £20. They deem it matter of regret that a greater number of Clergymen have not been found to undertake such duty—a subject to which they will again recur.

No provision having yet been made for the endowment of Divinity Scholarships: and Sunday and other Schools having been during several years assisted only with books, included in grants of Books and Tracts to the several Local Committees; the Committee pass to the fourth object of the Society, viz., The supply of Books and Tracts, of which the quantity imported cost £130 sterling. Twenty-five grants were made last year to as many Local Committees, which have been supplied to the amount of £119 currency. The Books, &c. included in each grant were selected by the Clergyman connected with the Committee to which it was made; and the publications of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge out of which he had to select consisted of such as were suited for Lending Libraries, Schools and Gratuitous Distribution. Your Committee caused a Depository of the publications to be opened at Fredericton, at which there have been sold to the amount of £3 4s. 9d. The Secretary has sold and issued to different parties for sale to the amount of about £24.

Fifth. Aid to the building and enlarging of Churches and Chapels. Ten appropriations have been made out of the £175 allotted last year to this object, of which £118 6s. 8d. have been drawn on certificates that the condition of each grant has been complied with.

The unpaid grants to Churches stand thus: Bay de Verte, £10. Kingston, £20. River de Chute, £20. Nelson, £16 13s. 4d. Total £66 13s. 4d.

* The actual state of the Funds, £28 12s. 7d. The income of the year 1842, £320 15s. 5d.

Having thus disposed of the several matters above detailed, the Committee would again advert, to what may be considered the object of paramount importance, namely, the necessity of an immediate increase in the number of Missionaries. The great extent of the Parishes in this Province; the very small band of Clergymen of our Church ministering to its spiritual wants; the fact that in several of these large districts no Clergyman is to be found, have been already brought before the notice of the Members of the Church of England, on the formation of this Society. The Committee regret to state that although two Missionaries are now employed by the aid of this Society, yet within the last ten years the whole number of the Clergy in the Province has only been increased by four, (three of these having been appointed since October last); while the Ministers of the Scotch Church, and of several of the dissenting bodies, have largely added to their numbers. This will appear from the subjoined statement, with which the Committee have been favored, and which they believe to be substantially correct.

"The Province of New Brunswick contained according to the "census of 1840, one hundred and forty six thousand inhabitants;
 "how far this number exceeded the population in 1830, has not been
 "ascertained, but doubtless it did so very considerably, as we find
 "that in ten years, from 1824 to 1834, the increase was more than "forty-five thousand. During this space of time there was but an "increase of one in the number of Missionaries to meet an increase of
 "probably fifty thousand inhabitants. In 1832, taking the Almanac
 "of that year for our authority, we had twenty-seven Clergymen,
 "and in the beginning of 1842, we had twenty-eight. In the same
 "period the Church of Scotland multiplied the number of its Ministers
 "by six (from three to eighteen.) The Church of Rome nearly "doubled its Clergy. The Baptists increased the number of their
 "Preachers from thirteen to twenty-four, and the Wesleyans from "fifteen to twenty-five. Thus the Church alone seems to have been
 "at a stand still, only having sufficient new Clergy from time to time
 "to fill up the gaps made by death or removal."

* This sum was the balance in the hands of the Treasurer, February 1st, 1843.

To supply our wants in this respect the good offices of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel have been earnestly invoked, but hitherto we regret to state without the results which had been anticipated, though we doubt not the disposition of that venerable body to render us the aid we so much need.

Upwards of £700 have been set apart from the Funds of the Society for this object, a very small proportion of which has been consumed by the expenses of the Missionaries hitherto engaged, and the Committee cannot but apprehend the longer non-employment of so large a sum for the purpose to which it has been devoted, may injuriously affect the progress of the Church Society. For these reasons the Committee are induced to dwell a little longer on this interesting subject.

The failure of the offers of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel to attract candidates for such employment in this Province leads this Committee to think that the duty of a Travelling Missionary must be considered as more arduous and irksome than it is; and therefore they beg leave to state their own opinion, that, although not adapted to a person of weak constitution, there is nothing in it which should alarm a person in good health and of active habits, the roads in this country being far better than one would expect to find in one so imperfectly settled, and travelling so practicable even in the most inclement season of the year that the beginning of the month of February has been selected by the Church Society for the time of its Annual General Meeting. They would further remark that the Travelling Missionary is not required to travel more, but only to a greater number of places, than most of the settled Missionaries in the Province; none or scarcely any of the Country Clergy being exempt from the necessity of going very considerable distances in the performance of their stated duties; nor is he subject to any other authority than are the other Missionaries of the Archdeaconry.

The Committee cannot but think that, were these things fully understood, any zealous and robust Candidate for Missionary employment would consider the inconvenience which he might expect to encounter in travelling about such a country as this, as more than compensated by the gratification he would derive (unless his experience should be very different from that of others who have tried the employment) from the good effect of his labors and the grateful feelings this would call forth, not to mention the advantage to himself of seeing a good deal of the country before he settles in any particular part of it.

No Clergyman well qualified for the duty would pursue this occupation long without finding an opportunity of being settled in as much comfort as falls to the lot of the Clergy generally of the Province, the want of Clergymen being very great, and the visits of the Travelling Missionary seldom failing to excite a strong desire for the blessing of a resident Pastor, and an effort to procure it; and although this Committee acknowledge that there is no room for boasting of what has been done in New Brunswick for the advancement and extension of the Church, they still flatter themselves that New Brunswick will not be found behind any other Province in the efforts its people have made and will continue to make for helping themselves. Its Church Society, which was established before any of the others and has hitherto been as liberally supported as any other, being ready to assist, by means of Funds already provided, in the maintenance of Travelling Missionaries in a greater degree than the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel have thought fit to allow.

These views the Committee would recommend should be again brought respectfully, but with all earnestness, before the Venerable Society, being fully convinced that the wide field open for the labors of her devoted and pious Missionaries should be occupied, and the interests of the Church strongly require that this should be done without delay.

J. M. STIRLING,

Secretary to the Executive Committee.

Reports of Local Committees received subsequently to January 20th.

The Local Committee of Kingsclear have forwarded several resolutions expressive of cordial approbation of the Society and its objects, especially of that object which stands first on the list, viz. Missionary visits to neglected places. They recommend a strong application to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, for more Travelling Missionaries, and as there appears to be great difficulty in procuring Clergymen from the Mother Country, they also recommend the establishment of Divinity Scholarships in King's College, that candidates may be trained up for the ministry in the Province itself. They return thanks for the Books already granted to their Lending Library, and request a further grant to it this year.

A letter from the Rev. C. Milner intimates, that from the distress which at present prevails, he has no prospect of making any collection in his Parishes for the Society this year, which he much regrets.

A letter from the Rev. A. Wood states, that although there is no diminution of good will to the cause, his people will be unable to contribute much this year. He returns thanks to the Society for the Books granted to them, and hopes they will not be overlooked at the next distribution. Prayer Books and Testaments are much in demand.

The Local Committee of Fredericton met January 15th, and again by adjournment on the 25th. On the former occasion, they appointed a Committee to prepare a report recommending special objects to the consideration of the General Committee; and on the latter, conformably to the report then presented, agreed to ask nothing from the Society for the benefit of Fredericton and its vicinity, except that it may participate in the division of the Books and Tracts which the Society shall import this year, and that the allotment may include Books suitable for a Lending Library, as well as gratuitous distribution. They also passed a resolution recommending the establishment of one or more Divinity Scholarships in King's College.

The Rev. T. N. De Wolfe announces the formation of Local Committees in Richibucto and Welford, and reports subscriptions amounting to £5 1s. 4½d. apologizing for the smallness of the amount. The Church in each of these Parishes has been put into a state fit for consecration by great exertion on the part of the people, who are grateful for the assistance afforded them by this Society.

A Local Committee was regularly organized in the Parish of Carleton on January 25th, after Divine Service and a Sermon by the Rev. W. W. Walker. The collection, after the Sermon, amounted to £4, and subscriptions have been made amounting to £9 15s.; not payable, however, till June 1st next, by which time it is represented that they will probably be greatly increased.

At Gagetown, on the 27th January, a Local Committee was duly formed, and subscriptions have since been obtained to the amount of £6 6s. 3d.

A Committee has also been formed in the Parishes of Dumfries and Prince William, and subscriptions made, of which £7 6s. 3d. has been collected. They return thanks for the Books granted for the use of these Parishes, and also for the assistance given to the building of a new Church at Magundy. They now solicit Books for a Lending Library in each Parish, and a further grant to the Magundy Church.

The Norton Committee apologize for the limited amount of their subscriptions, viz. £6 11s. 6d., which they attribute to engagements in which they have lately been involved. They solicit aid towards the erection of a Gallery in the Parish Church, and further assistance to the Parochial Library.

The Local Committee of Springfield return thanks for a valuable addition to their Parochial Library. They too being engaged in erecting a Parsonage House, have found it necessary to reduce their contributions to the Church Society, without any abatement of interest in its cause. They report subscriptions to the amount of £7 8s. and solicit aid towards increasing their Parochial Library.

Certain applications for grants of money were then taken into consideration, of which the following were determined upon, the rest being referred to the Executive Committee.

1. An application for a grant to the Chapel at Chamcook, to aid in paying off a debt incurred in the erection of it. Resolved, that the said application be not complied with.

2. An application for the payment of a grant made to Cocaigne Church in 1841, of £20. Resolved, that the same be paid.

3. An application for the payment of a grant made to Bay de Verte Church in 1840, of £10. Resolved, that the same be paid.

4. An application from the Rev. Dr. Jarvis for the payment of travelling expenses, incurred by order of the Lord Bishop in 1840 and 1841. Resolved, that the same be not paid.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Resolved, That the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Pounds be placed at the disposal of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel towards the support of additional Travelling Missionaries, and that the Society will engage, to the utmost of its power, to devote annually a liberal sum corresponding with its means, for the same purpose; and that the above be respectfully communicated to the Society and the Lord Bishop.

Resolved, That the sum of Eighty Pounds be placed at the disposal of the Executive Committee, for the building and enlarging of Churches and Chapels, and that it be an instruction to the Committee to comply, as near as may be, with the recommendations of the several Local Committees.

Resolved, That such sum as will purchase a Bill of Exchange for

One Hundred Pounds, sterling, be transmitted to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, for a supply of Books suitable for Lending Libraries, and other purposes; and that the Executive Committee be authorized to transmit a further sum for Books, should the state of the funds appear to them to admit of its being done.

Secretary.

Tuesday, May 16, 1843.

Read a Letter from the Rev. W. J. Rodber, Secretary of the "Incorporated Society for promoting the enlargement, building and repairing of Churches and Chapels" to the Secretary, dated St. Martin's Place, 9th November, 1842, stating in reply to his letter by direction of the Executive Committee, that as the Society have not exercised any right of property in the plans submitted to their consideration, he had forwarded a copy of his letter to the Oxford "Architectural Society," and "Camden Society," at Cambridge, who, he had no doubt, would pay due attention to the request which it contained.

Read a letter from the Rev. B. Webb, Secretary of the "Cambridge Camden Society," to the Secretary, dated Trinity College, Cambridge, 2d December, 1842, stating that they possessed no plans for Churches, but offering to procure from some Architect in whom the Society could confide, plans embodying such directions as might be given; also that he had sent a small parcel of the Society's minor publications, as a present from their Committee to the "Church Society." This parcel has been received.

Read a Letter from the Rev. B. Webb, to the Secretary, dated Trinity College, 2d March, 1843, stating that he had enclosed tracings of the miniature drawings of two simple, yet beautiful designs, lately made under the superintendence of their Committee. The smaller will cost about £800 in England, and will hold 250; the larger will hold 1600, and cost perhaps £2,500, in the hope that they may be of service. And assuring the "Church Society" of the readiness of the "Camden Society" at all times to give it all the aid in their power.

Read a Letter from the Rev. J. L. Richards, D. D., Rector of Exeter College, Oxford, President of the "Architectural Society," to the Secretary, stating that his Letter had drawn the attention of that Society to the desirableness of publishing such plans of Churches as were requested, and that they had already engaged artists for taking the ground plans, &c., of a few which may best serve as models, copies of which they will be happy to forward; and assuring the "Church Society" of the interest the Society feel in the Colonial Church, and their anxiety to render their labours in any way useful to it. This letter was followed by a parcel of the Society's publications.

Whereupon, Resolved, That the Archdeacon be requested to return thanks in the name of this Committee, to the "Cambridge Camden Society," and to the "Oxford Architectural Society," for their kind attention to the request addressed to them respectively, and for their valuable presents to the "Church Society."
